

Dashboards and Indicators

Real-time reporting at your fingertips

Reporting is a vital part of any business and having real-time reports that are automatically ready for you when you need them makes a huge difference.

Knowing what is happening overall, in each department, team, or even on an individual level can drive productivity and help management make those all-important business decisions.

That is exactly what dashboards are built for! Build unique Dashboards that include multiple indicators storing information from a range of data sets.

Maximizer Dashboards allow you to report on any field within the database, from System fields to User Defined fields, the possibilities are endless.

You can also decide how you want the data to be displayed, graphs, pie charts, lists, numerical indicators and gauges all make dashboard reporting easy to read and customizable.

Dashboards and Indicators

Report on Address Book, Sales Opportunities, Email Campaigns, Customer Service Case, Activities, Account Management, GDPR and much more.

Plus, you can choose who sees which reports, meaning users see the information relevant to their job role and them as individuals, your management team, however, may see each of these dashboards plus an overview of their entire team.

Dashboards also can be printed and emailed should they need to be shared with anyone outside of the platform, such as directors or shareholders.

To find out how Reporting through Dashboards and Indicators can help your business to gain real-time information without the need to spend hours collating data, exporting and creating reports from scratch contact us today at info@unimaxsolutions.com

